

Valuation per Pupil is a measure of a school districts wealth used by the Ohio Department of Education, and is another important variable used to determine TVLS's State Foundation Funding. As real estate values increase and/or student enrollment decreases, TVLS's valuation per pupil increases. The higher a district's valuation per pupil, the wealthier the the state ranks a district, resulting in less State Foundation Funding.